Insurance	₹ 3,000
Transport	₹ 2,000
Total non-subsidy amount . .	₹ 50,000
	Total subsidy . . ₹ 50,000 amount.

(2) The pattern of assistance will be in the form of 50 % subsidy amount released by the Department of Animal Husbandry and Animal Welfare under RKVY after verifying the fulfilment of the project and the rest of 50 % will be borne by the beneficiary themselves by availing money out of their own effort or as a bank loan/assistance from other sources.

(3) Payment will be made through ECS to the beneficiaries as per the circular No. 1822/FS(PA)/2011, dated 23-9-2011 of the Finance Department, Puducherry after the completion of the project components.

J. Mode of Implementation and purchase of animals.— (1) The selection committee shall intimate the selection of the beneficiary through the concerned Veterinary Assistant Surgeons and would advice the beneficiary to construct a goat shed in required space, to start cultivating the recommended fodder crops in the specified area, purchase the required number of Does and Buck and to make arrangements for the insurance premium and transportation

(2) After the establishment of the stall fed goat farm unit, the concerned Veterinary Assistant Surgeon shall physically verify and submit a report to the selection committee

(3) On ascertaining the fulfilment of the project components the selection committee shall recommend to release the subsidy portion as back ended investment subsidy through ECS transaction.

K. Terms and conditions for the purchase of breeding goats.—The Veterinary Assistant Surgeon should scrupulously ensure the following:

1. Goats with definitive breed characters should be purchased.
2. Goats aged preferably 3-6 months shall be suitable for stall fed rearing.

3. Own goats of the beneficiary should not be inducted.
4. The goats should be apparently healthy and free from any diseases.
5. The goats should not have ear tag marks from previous tagging.
6. The goats shall be purchased preferably from shandis/livestock markets of States other than Puducherry Union Territory where the breedable goats are available abundantly at competitive price.

L. Fodder cultivation.— Silvi-pasture type of fodder cultivation is recommended in which multiple cropping of grasses, legumes and shrubs within fodder tree crops shall be taken up in consultation with Agricultural Technology Management Agency (ATMA), Department of Agriculture, Government of Puducherry.

M. Insurance coverage.— Insurance coverage shall be facilitated by Department of Animal Husbandry and Animal Welfare, through master policy of any nationalised insurance company and all the 21 goats purchased will necessarily be insured based on the valuation/health certificate given by the Veterinary Assistant Surgeons of the respective Veterinary Dispensaries.

N. Inspection after implementation and health coverage.— After the release of the subsidy, periodical inspections of the stall fed goat farms and fodder cultivation plots shall be made by the Veterinary Assistant Surgeons of the jurisdiction and by other member(s) of the selection committee to ensure proper maintenance of the goats. The Veterinary Assistant Surgeon of the concerned Veterinary Dispensaries shall be responsible for complete health coverage including the breeding aspect, insurance and claims.

O. Recovery/Cancellation of subsidy.— Before the distribution of the subsidy under this scheme, an undertaking will be obtained from the beneficiary to the effect that she/he will not sell the goats/ voluntarily dismantle the shed / uproot the fodder crops for a period of 3 years and in case, if it is proved/found subsequently that the information furnished by her/him is false or if the goats are found to have been sold/ the shed has been dismantled or the fodder crops have been uprooted voluntarily, the entire amount of subsidy will be recovered by the Government and penal action will be taken against the beneficiary as per law.

P. Interpretation and clarification.— In the implementation of the scheme, if any doubt arises in regard to the interpretation of any of the provisions of the scheme or if any point requires clarification, the matter shall be referred to the Director of Animal Husbandry and Animal Welfare and the decision of the Director shall be final.
